3. Public and Semi-Public Telephones

a. Semi-public main station telephones and public telephones equipped with coin collecting devices are furnished in one of the following arrangements, based on the type of facilities in the serving central office:

- (1) Prepay stations - Payment for the use of such stations must be deposited before a connection can be established.
- (2) Postpay stations - Payment for the use of such stations must be deposited at the time a connection is established.
- (3) Dial tone first stations - Connection with a Telephone Company operator or with certain designated emergency numbers can be established without deposit of payment. All other connections are established on a prepay basis.

b. Telephone sets are regularly provided in colors (including black) from time to time considered standard by the Telephone Company for such telephones at no additional charge for such color.

4. Booths

- a. Booths are furnished when, in the judgement of the Telephone Company, they are warranted. If a booth is warranted but the occupant of the property where a public telephone is located or the customer to semi-public telephone service desires a booth of a special type or finish, such occupant or customer may provide such booth at his own expense, which booth shall be in accordance with specifications approved by the Telephone Company.
- b. When, in the opinion of the Telephone Company, a booth is not warranted, the occupant or customer may if he so elects, provide a booth at his own expense, purchase one from the Telephone Company at a charge equal to the expense incurred by the Telephone Company in providing it, or lease a booth from the Telephone Company at rates or charges based upon costs incurred.

5. Semi-Public Extension Service

Note: Effective March 17, 1977, new installations of extension service are restricted to one telephone per semi-public telephone service line. Extension service telephones in excess of one per semi-public telephone service line which are in service on the aforementioned date will continue to be provided to the same customer only for as long as they remain in service at their then existing locations.

- a. Telephones for extension two-way service are furnished without a coin collecting device and without a dial. For telephones installed March 17, 1977 and thereafter, a privacy feature is provided at no additional charge whereby users of such telephones cannot access the line when the coin telephone receiver is off-hook.
- b. Extension service will not be provided for use on one-way semi-public telephone service.
- c. The location of such telephones shall be confined to the continuous property of the customer.

/1/ In accordance with Case No. 96-1310-TP-COI, issued May 22, 1997, and the FCC's CC Docket No. 96-128, tariffed Public, Semi-Public, and CourtesyLine Telephone Services will be phased out by October 7, 1997, and local coin sent-paid message charges assessed to end-users at Public Telephones will be deregulated after October 7, 1997.

5. Semi-Public Extension Service

d. Monthly rates

(1) Extension service provided in connection with semi-public telephone service is subject to the rates and charges specified in this tariff for non-residence extension service.

(a) A set busy visual signal to indicate to users of the coin telephone that the extension is in use.

(b) A cut-off arrangement to cut off the extension telephone.

Note: For extension telephone installed March 17, 1977 and thereafter, a cut-off arrangement is not required
(See 5-a above)

(c) Additional audible signals.

6. Extended Network Interface (ENI) for Semi-Public Extension Service.

a. Modular telephones and auxiliary equipment may be connected to semi-public service lines through modular jack and Extended Network Interface subject to the following:

(1) The ENI consists of an interface coupling device mounted in the main coin telephone to provide the privacy feature, premises wire and associated jack.

(2) Extension telephones may be equipped with a rotary or Touch-Tone dial to allow connection with a Telephone Company operator or with certain designated emergency numbers.

(3) The associated jack shall be located at least 10 feet from the main station but must be on same premises as the main station.

(4) A maximum of one ENI and associated connecting jack per semi-public service line is allowed.

/1/ In accordance with Case No. 96-1310-TP-COI, issued May 22, 1997, and the FCC's CC Docket No. 96-128, tariffed Public, Semi-Public, and CourtesyLine Telephone Services will be phased out by October 7, 1997, and local coin sent-paid message charges assessed to end-users at Public Telephones will be deregulated after October 7, 1997.

A. DESCRIPTION

CourtesyLine Service is a coinless pay telephone service that allows a subscriber to pay the local call charges made by calling parties, as a courtesy to those callers. All other charges are paid for by the calling party by means of charges to a calling card, billing to a third number, or placing the call collect.

CourtesyLine Service provides a central office line, a coinless Company provided Touch Tone telephone set, an instruction card, and Call Screening services to meet the needs of the subscriber. The telephone set may be provided as either desk or wall mounted.

CourtesyLine Service is installed solely at the discretion of the Company, where facilities permit, and generally in locations where a public coin telephone is not warranted.

CourtesyLine Service provides outgoing service only. Incoming calls are blocked.

3. Payment Plans

• Term Payment Plans

In the event that a customer terminates CourtesyLine Service during the 12-month initial period, the customer will remain liable for the remaining contract charges. These charges will become due and payable in their entirety immediately upon termination. The multi-line end user common line charge is excluded from this calculation.

Commission approval of the above termination liability language for CourtesyLine Service is not intended to indicate that the Commission has sanctioned any particular legal result should a dispute arise between the parties. In the event of dispute signators to such contracts may pursue whatever legal remedies they deem appropriate to resolve the dispute.

/1/ In accordance with Case No. 96-1310-TP-COI, issued May 22, 1997, and the FCC's CC Docket No. 96-128, tariffed Public, Semi-Public, and CourtesyLine Telephone Services will be phased out by October 7, 1997, and local coin sent-paid message charges assessed to end-users at Public Telephones will be deregulated after October 7, 1997.

5. Message Rate Service - COCOT

- a. Local calls are each charged on a message unit basis and an additional charge is made for local messages in excess of the allowance. The allowance, if not used during one month, is not credited to the customer's account for any other month that service is provided.

/1/ In accordance with Case No. 96-1310-TP-COI, issued May 22, 1997, and the FCC's CC Docket No. 96-128, Directory Assistance charges assessed to end-users at pay telephone stations are deregulated after October 7, 1997.

Ameritech Ohio proposes to revise its Tariff 20 in accordance with Case No. 96-1310-TP-COI, issued May 22, 1997.

The PUCO's Order instructed all LEC's operating in Ohio to file proposed amended tariffs to reflect that directory assistance charges assessed to end-users at pay telephones and local coin-sent paid message service charges assessed to end-users at pay telephone stations are deregulated after October 7, 1997.

The Order also instructed LECs to phase out both Public and Semi-Public telephone services by October 7, 1997.

To this end, Ameritech Ohio respectfully submits the attached tariff modifications.
